At U.N. Session

HELSINKI, Finland (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, jaunty and jovial, came to wish President Urho Kekkonen a happy birthday Friday and won cheers and smiles from Finnish crowds.

The Kremlin leader declared there was nothing secret about the purpose of his visit. "We only came to see a good neighbor," he said.

Khrushchev rolled in on a special green train with a yellow and red engine. He seemed in a good mood despite the fact that Western world political leaders were showing no signs of joining his boom for a new summit round at the United Nations in New York after the fiasco at Paris in mid-May.

Khrushchev and the leaders of Communist members of the United Nations have announced they will head delegations to the General Assembly opening in New York Sept. 20.

Hopes Ike Will Attend

Newsman pined Khrushchev with questions about his United Nations plans when his train reached the Finnish border.

What would you say if Eisenhower and Macmillan also go to New York? a reporter asked.

"It would be good," Khrushchev replied.

Asked specifically if he knows whether President Eisenhower might attend, Khrushchev said: "I don't know but I wish he could be there. In any case it won't be a summit conference as this is the General Assembly."

But neither Eisenhower, British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan nor any other high Western leaders gave any indication they would be there while Khrushchev is.

Red China Reaction Cool

The first reaction from Red China to Khrushchev's U.N. plans also was cool. Hong Kong's Communist New Evening Post said Khrushchev would be wasting his time even if all other heads of government would attend. China's Mao Tse-tung has been opposed to East-West summit parleys all along.

For Khrushchev's arrival, Helsinki's central station was flooded with about 250 yards of bright red carpet hastily put down after a sopping shower. About 8,000 people outside the station gave a burst-of-cheers. But the welcome was warm and not demonstrative, just as Finns had said it would be.

Ex-Con Seized
In Girl Slaying

MARION, Ill. (AP) — Joseph Harry Milani, 33, a convicted murderer with a record dating to the age of 16, was charged Friday with murdering a teen-aged girl he abducted from the arms of her fiancé.

Milani, described as an "ornery cuss" by fellow inmates during his most recent prison stay, was charged with killing Mary Lily Ellen Roberts, 17, a Carbondale, Ill., waitress.

The girl and her fiancé, John Bryant Jr., 20, were parked in a secluded section on Crab orchard Lake National Wildlife Refuge Aug. 25 when a gunman ordered the young man out of the car. He shot Bryant in the face, the bullet going through both cheeks, and took his wallet. He then drove away with the girl.

Her body was found in an abandoned well Sunday after an intense search throughout southern Illinois by an army of volunteers on foot, in automobiles, horseback, airplanes and helicopters.

WORLD OF WORDS — The wonderful world of words opens up for 7-year-old Twila Jean Wilson who beat the 50-50 odds given by Tampa, Fla., physicians that she wouldn't live to go to school at all. As an infant she would lapse into a sleep and could not be aroused. An operation to remove her spleen, numerous transfusions of rare rh negative factor blood, and "the help of Jesus," finally pulled her through the critical period, Mrs. Bobbie Wilson, said. Though somewhat thin and wistful appearing, she was thrilled with the prospect of learning how to read in her first day of school this week. (AP Photofax)

Khrush Likely To Get Western Cold Shoulder

WASHINGTON (AP) — Western summit leaders were reported Friday to boycott Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's appearance before the United Nations General Assembly.

The Western cold shoulder appeared to be shaping up as a calculated rebuff to what is viewed as Khrushchev's cynical move to turn the session into a gigantic propaganda circus.

President Eisenhower almost certainly will go to New York later, however, to deliver what will amount to a combined Allied reply to any of Khrushchev's taunts and boasts. Most officials expect Khrushchev will stay only a few days.

The Allied attitude was made known a few hours after Khrushchev's arrival in Finland for a visit, was quoted as saying "it would be good" if Eisenhower showed up along with Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

Authoritative informants quickly made it plain that Western leaders at present have no plan of obliging Khrushchev in this way—especially in view of the bitter anti-Western campaign he has conducted since torpedoing the May summit conference.

By staying home while Khrushchev is free-wheeling in New York, Allied chiefs would show the Soviet leader he can't force them into an impromptu summit merely by showing up and announcing he is ready to talk.

Khrushchev might lure some Asian and African heads of government to the United Nations to back up the Communist satellite chiefs he undoubtedly has ordered to attend. But Western diplomats are hoping not too many will make the trip.

The White House and State Department Friday sought to keep the Russians guessing about whether Eisenhower would even show up for a one-shot speech.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said in reply to questions that Eisenhower is still considering whether to deliver such an address.

Hagerty refused to say whether the President has contacted Macmillan.

Congo Heads
Toward Civil
War, AnarchyU. N. Forces Fire
On Mob Killing One;
Tribal Battles Rage

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — The Congo careened crazily and bloodily toward civil war, anarchy and possibly a Communist-style dictatorship Friday night. For the first time U.N. African forces resorted to gunfire to keep order.

Bodies littered the streets of Bakwanga, the diamond mining center where Congolese army troops have been fighting secessionist forces of Albert Kalonji. U.N. officials counted at least 270 dead.

At Moerbeke, near the army base of Thysville in Leopoldville province, U.N. Moroccan troops opened fire on a belligerent group of armed civilians. First reports said one civilian was killed.

In Leopoldville Premier Patrice Lumumba proceeded vigorously to wipe out political opposition to his martial regime by throwing political opponents in jail.

Veteran diplomats in the capital watched anxiously as the Lumumba government proceeded along the path that leads usually to dictatorship and a police state.

Red Advisers Pouring In

Scores of Russians and Communist advisers have poured into the Congo in recent weeks. Observers who know well the pattern of Communist infiltration said the trend of events here is almost classical in design.

From the suppression of newspapers, the banning of political meetings, the rough and ready employment of troops and police to the arrest of political opposition, the course taken by the Lumumba government has followed the familiar pattern, they say, and they believe the chaos and confusion is all a part of the pattern.

A belief was growing among observers that the U.N. could not restore order in this chaotic two-month-old nation unless the Congolese army somehow could be disarmed. There is slight hope of this in the face of Lumumba's militant determination to use the army to quell opposition in both Kasai and Katanga provinces.

Soviet Planes Arrive

The rich Central African nation from which so much was expected seems in grave danger of dividing hopelessly along tribal lines. A consignment of 10 Ilyushin-18 Soviet planes now has arrived in the country. A hundred Soviet trucks capable of transporting troops already are in the interior.

It is not known who is directing the army's operation in the Bakwanga area which seeks to become a separate province for Baluba tribesmen. But it certainly is not Gen. Victor Lundula, the one-time sergeant who now is commander of Lumumba's Congolese army. Lundula has been observed arguing with his sergeants about the proper conduct of the army.

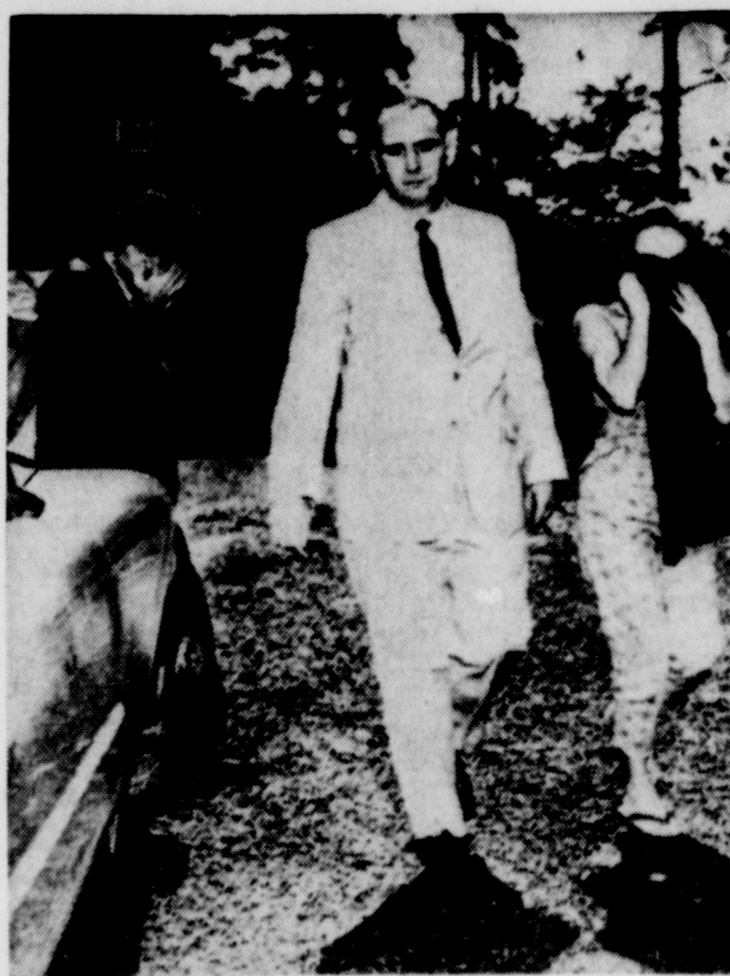

The United Nations had reported only quiet in the Bakwanga region until Friday.

Then they reported that Congolese troops had engaged the armed supporters of secessionists and that "there was shooting for hours."

The incident at Moerbeke marked the first time the U.N. African troops resorted to gunfire.

Kennedy Seeks
Votes In Native
New England

PORTLAND, Maine (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy invaded Republican territory Friday saying that New England can solve its economic problems by voting Democratic in November.

"This is my home," said the Massachusetts senator in his prepared speech here. "These are the people I know—the people whose problems have been my daily concern. And these are the people who know me best."

Kennedy appeared in Maine, New Hampshire and Massachusetts—states that gave their 25 electoral votes to the Republicans in 1956.

And in a busy, nonstop day he made these points:

1. Bluntly warned Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev once more that the voters of the United States are quite capable of deciding for themselves who shall be their next president.

2. Told a big fund-raising breakfast in Boston: "We've got to win in states like Massachusetts."

And pointing to an opinion poll that has him and Vice President Richard M. Nixon running neck and neck: "Now it's an even race. Nobody can win. Hard work will do it."

3. Assured an airport rally in Manchester, N. H., that if he's elected in November raising the minimum wage will get priority treatment.

Nikita Explains
Why Barbara's
Plea Unanswered

HELSINKI, Finland (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev gave newsmen an explanation Friday of why he has not replied to a letter from Barbara Powers asking clemency for U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers.

"It is true that I received her letter but I was not in Moscow at the time and when I returned she had left," Khrushchev said.

Khrushchev returned to Moscow last Saturday from a vacation in the Crimea. Mrs. Powers left Moscow last Friday for home.

Pravda Assails
Yugo Official

MOSCOW (AP) — Pravda, the Communist party paper, fired another broadside Friday in the two-edged scrap in the Communist camp over Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's theories about peaceful coexistence.

This time the target was a "revisionist," Yugoslav Vice President Edvard Kardelj, who has written a book which says Communist countries are not necessarily peaceful and may bring about predatory wars.

Most of the fire so far has been directed at Red Chinese "dogmatists"—though Red China is seldom named—who dispute Khrushchev's line that war no longer is inevitable.

Pravda's attack on Kardelj, covering nearly a full page, accused him of slandering Red China and whitewashing Americans who accuse the Peiping regime of being aggressive. Kardelj wrote that Red China has turned to Trotskyite theories favoring worldwide revolution by violence.

Nixon's Ailing Leg
Steadily Improving

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon Friday began exercising his infected left leg which doctors say has shown steady improvement since he was admitted to Walter Reed Army Hospital on Monday.

Herbert G. Klein, Nixon's press secretary, said the physical rehabilitation—mainly muscle flexing—is designed to strengthen the vice president's thigh muscles.

Nixon injured his left knee on a car door during his Greensboro, N.C., presidential campaign trip Aug. 17.

Red Advice To Japan

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet newspapers said Friday the best road that Japan can follow is one of neutrality and peace. That was the theme of press comment on this 15th anniversary of the World War II surrender of Japan.

Big Howitzer
Overcharged
With Powder

GRAFENWOEHR, Germany (AP) — U.S. Army investigators reported Friday night a howitzer shell that killed 15 American soldiers and wounded 27 was overcharged with powder.

The 8-inch shell from a U.S. 3rd Armored Division gun overshot its target and exploded among the soldiers on normally safe ground.

The Army ordered an immediate investigation into what was believed to be the worst training mishap ever sustained by the 230,000 U.S. troops in West Germany.

The Army said the shell landed in a camp area, hitting a supply tent, during routine maneuvers in this training area in North Bavaria, 30 miles from Communist Czechoslovakia.

Two of the injured were in critical condition, the Army said. Three have returned to duty.

Injured Flown To Hospitals

Helicopters flew the injured to Army hospitals at Nuernberg.

Names of the victims were withheld pending notification of their families.

The Grafenwoehr training area, a region of rolling fields and woodland, has been reserved for U.S. troop training since World War II. Located in a thinly populated part of Germany, it is off the beaten track and reachable only by narrow rural roads.

A special artillery range, with a designated target area, is one of the main features of the maneuver area. The camp sites lie far to the right of the range, normally well beyond danger.

The 3rd Armored Division troops hit by the shell had arrived at the training area the night before. The Army said the hit was at 8:35 a.m., just after morning roll call.

"Tremendous Concussion"

"I heard a tremendous explosion," said Lt. Joseph C. Lutz, 27, of Indianapolis, Ind., commander of the troop unit. "I saw stars and thought that I had ruptured my ear drums. There was a flash and a tremendous concussion," he continued in an Army report of the incident.

Lutz said medical corpsmen and chaplains arrived immediately after the explosion and within 10 minutes 25 ambulances were on the scene.

Later the 3rd Armored Division commander, Maj. Gen. Frederick J. Brown, issued a statement saying that preliminary investigation established "that the direct cause of the accident was the firing of one 8-inch round of artillery with a powder charge of seven, whereas the correct powder charge should have been five."

Plunges To Death

CHARLOTTE, Mich. (UPI) — An elderly aerialist was killed and his teen-aged daughter was badly injured Friday when they plunged to the ground from a high trapeze tower before a horror-stricken crowd at the Eaton County 4-H fair.

David Winnie, 67, and his daughter had just finished their act and were descending a 70-foot tower when Winnie apparently slipped and fell.

The daughter, Patsy, 17, who was below him on the tower, was knocked from the tower by her father's hurtling body as the crowd of 1,500 screamed in shock.

Millions Jam Highways
As Long Holiday Begins

By The Associated Press
Americans by the millions hit the roads Friday for favorite holiday spots, bent on getting an early start at Labor Day weekend fun.

Other millions dotted the beaches, parks and recreation centers the final summer holiday—a three-day respite from the business of earning a living: a time to live it up.

Weather was ideal over much of the nation, with brisk or mild temperatures in the North and lingering summer in the South. There was a promise of sunshine in most sections.

The National Safety Council said traffic accidents could take 460 lives during the 78-hour holiday period from 6 p.m. local time Friday and midnight Monday. This compares with about 330 traffic deaths for a nonholiday weekend of equal length at this season, the council said.

The Soviets say the Radcliffe College girl tried to persuade Soviet youths to collect information by giving them chewing gum and rock 'n' roll records. (AP Photofax)

U.S. Says Cuba
Using 'Big Lie,' Document False

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department said Friday a forged anti-U.S. document circulated in Latin America shows the Castro government is aping the Communists in use of the "big lie" technique.

The three-page document purports to be a photographic copy of a secret Washington dispatch aimed to U.S. embassies throughout the hemisphere, ordering them to prevent Prime Minister Fidel Castro's economic conference of underdeveloped nations proposed in Havana for this month.

The department termed the document an obvious phony. A spokesman said it contains misspellings, the name of a nonexistent State Department official, incorrect signatures including that of Undersecretary Douglas Dillon as acting secretary when he actually was away from Washington, and a reference to "the failure of the summit conference" although the document's Feb. 5, 1960 date is well ahead of the Paris summit gathering.

But the general form of the mysterious "airgram" is so close to the real thing that the department started an investigation as to how an authentic official message might have fallen into un-friendly hands.

Press officer Lincoln White spoke of "the increasing use of the big lie technique in the current campaign by the Cuban government."

Instead of pinning authorship on Castro, he said this particular "clever and unscrupulous forgery" was sufficiently authentic to have been prepared by Soviet or Red Chinese professionals rather than Castro's less-experienced hands.

He said a copy of the forgery was given to the department by a friendly Latin American, not identified; that the document was obviously intended for wide circulation in Latin America, and that it is apparently being distributed by Castro's press service, Prensa Latina.

NationalistsCastro Denounces
U.S., Tears Up Pact
For Mutual Defense

HAVANA (AP) — Cuba Friday night broke diplomatic relations with Nationalist China and announced its intention to recognize Red China.

Apparently only technical details remained for Cuba to become the first nation in the Western Hemisphere to formally establish diplomatic relations with the Chinese Communist regime.

Defying pleas for hemisphere solidarity, Prime Minister Fidel Castro branded the promises of Soviet aid as Cuba's answer to actions of the Organization of American States.

He also welcomed Red Chinese military aid if it is offered.

Throng Roars Approval

Hundreds of thousands of Cubans attending a so-called assembly of the Cuban people roared their approval when Castro asked if they wanted to establish diplomatic ties with the Peiping government.

With the shouts of the throng ringing in his ears, Castro said: "From this moment we end our relations with the regime of Chiang Kai-shek."

Chiang is president of the Nationalist Chinese government on Formosa. Nationalist China's ambassador in Havana, Liu Yu-wan, who represents almost 30,000 Chinese nationals in Cuba, declined immediate comment on Castro's announcement.

The fiery revolutionary Prime Minister then read to the shouting crowd "a declaration of Havana" in which he said the people's general assembly of Cuba declared before America and before the world that it accepted the protection of Soviet rockets in case of imperialistic attack.

Tears Up U.S.-Cuba Pact
Castro said Cub. would establish diplomatic relations with all Communist countries.

He blamed the United States for attempting "to isolate" the Soviet Union and Communist China from the Western Hemisphere.

Before a huge rally in Havana's Civic Plaza, Castro tore up the Cuba-U.S. mutual defense treaty of 1952 and threw away the pieces.

Then he told the throng to hold "for an opportune time" the question of the big U.S. naval base at Guantanamo.

A crowd estimated at more than 300,000 people filled the square to hear Castro denounce the United States and the OAS.

TWU Stands Pat
In PRR Strike

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The head of 20,000 maintenance workers whose strike has shut down the Pennsylvania Railroad, the nation's largest line, said Friday he was "standing pat" on union contract demands despite strong outside pressure to settle the two-day old walkout quickly.

Michael J. Quill, president of the Transport Workers Union, also announced that he sent a telegram to railroad President Allan J. Greenough challenging him to a face-to-face debate on the strike issues at Altoona, Pa., Saturday before Pennsylvania employees.

Greenough promptly declined the offer, saying "an audience cannot settle a strike. It must be settled at the bargaining table."

The union chief also called for a top level meeting with Pennsylvania officials and again predicted a "long duration" for the strike which has idled 72,000 rail workers and is costing the railroad $2,500,000 a day in revenue.

Public Works Bill
Signed By President

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower Friday signed a $3.9 billion public works appropriation bill which provided less money than he asked, but called for starts on 14 more water development projects than he recommended.

The President budgeted $710,819,000 for building water projects by the Army Corps of Engineers, and $173,950,000 for construction and rehabilitation of reclamation bureau projects. He requested funds for 37 new projects.

Congress cut the engineers' budget to $706,491,600 and the reclamation bureau's to $166,444,880, and rejected five of the new starts recommended by the President. But, it voted money for 23 other new projects, and appropriated funds for renewing work on four more which had been discontinued under the Eisenhower administration.

Red Men Win Round Board Offers To Build Indians Separate School

LILLINGTON, N. C. (UPI) — The stubborn Indians of Dunn, N.C., won a round in their battle of the school bus Friday when the white man offered them the peace pipe.

The Indians called a meeting for Friday night to determine whether they will accept but many of them indicated they considered it a halfway offer and unacceptable.

The Harnett County Board of Education offered to build an Indian high school in Dunn if the nine Indian children involved will continue in the meantime to make the disputed daily 70-mile round trip by school bus to the nearest Indian high school.

The school board offered to build a high school unit as an addition to the existing Indian grade school in Dunn. The offer was dependent on county commission approval — and on the raising of funds.

The battle, a point of contention for several years, came to a head this year when the children, backed by their parents, said they wanted to go to Dunn's all-white high school rather than make the bus ride. The Indians have traditionally refused to attend Negro schools, preferring their own schools under this area's unique triple segregation system.

Reds Protest Berlin Airlift

BERLIN (UPI) — Communist East Germany Friday night accused the United States, Britain and France of breaking four-power agreements made with Russia by airlifting West Germans to West Berlin.

East German Deputy Foreign Minister Otto Winzer charged that commercial airlines of the three Western powers were carrying "fascists, militarists, and revenge seeking elements" to West Berlin for veterans' and refugees rallies.

Winzer said this action violates the four-power pledge that Germany would never again be allowed to menace another state.

West Berlin sponsored a "baby airlift" of West Germans refused admission to Berlin on ground routes by Communist border guards. The West Germans flew into the city on the commercial airlines of the three Western powers, the only lines allowed to use the air corridors from the West to Berlin.

Maryland Yet To Feel Impact Of PRR Strike

BALTIMORE (AP) — About 5,000 Maryland railroaders continued idle Friday because of the Pennsylvania Railroad strike while workers in other transportation fields had about all the business they could handle.

The Pennsy shutdown sent swarms of Labor Day weekend travelers to bus terminals and airline reservation offices.

Both the Trailways and Greyhound terminals in Baltimore were packed, and the companies added extra runs to take care of the demand.

"It's heavy now and we expect it to get progressively heavier as the weekend moves along," a spokesman for one bus firm said.

Meanwhile, the economic impact of the Pennsylvania strike hadn't set in because of the weekend but if the labor difficulty isn't settled soon a railroad official predicted business and industries would suffer.

John D. Morris, manager of the Chesapeake Region of the Pennsy, said the Eastern Shore would be hurt for sure.

"We are the only railroad on the . . . Shore and those poor fellows depend on us to a great extent."

He said many Shore firms had built up fuel supplies but they will not last long if the strike continues. The seafood industry, he added, ships about 60 per cent of its products by the Pennsy and will feel the strike effects next week.

Garbage Collectors Agree To End Strike

SILVER SPRING, Md. (AP) — Striking refuse collectors in Montgomery County agreed Friday to go back to work after being told they will get a pay raise.

The agreement ended a three-day surprise walkout that left 55,000 homes without trash and garbage collections.

Involved are about 150 men employed by the Washington Suburban Sanitary Commission. Pending a pay settlement, they are to get paid for the days they were on strike, time and a half for Friday, Saturday and Monday, plus holiday pay for Labor Day.

Commission members said details of the promised pay raise will be announced at a special meeting Tuesday or Wednesday with the workers negotiating committee.

Hurricane Located

SAN JUAN, P.R. (UPI) — Donna, a "severe hurricane" with winds of 135 miles per hour, was discovered in the South Atlantic Friday 1,200 miles east-southeast of San Juan, Puerto Rico.

The San Juan Weather Bureau said the direction of the season's fourth tropical storm was indefinite "but it appears to be moving towards the west-northwest at about 20 miles per hour."

Kent County Girl Wins Cherry Pie Honors At Fair

TIMONIUM, Md. (AP) — A 16-year-old Eastern Shore high school girl beat out four other competitors from other parts of the state Friday to win the 4-H cherry pie baking contest.

Ginger Elliott, 16, of Worton, Kent County, baked a pie which the judges decided was the best one in the contest.

But the girl didn't find out about her victory until it was announced during the evening. Ginger earlier had won the cherry pie baking title in her Eastern Shore region.

This and the annual flower show were the main contests in the hall as the first week of the 79th annual fair neared conclusion. The flower judging continues Saturday.

The first week of 4-H judging, exhibits and activities came to a close, except for livestock and egg grading contests in which the youngsters themselves do the judging. After these events Saturday most of the boys and girls will head for home.

Girl, 17, Bound Over To Jury In Stab Case

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Linda Marie Heavener, accused of murder in the fatal stabbing of ex-Marine George Cooley, was bound over to the grand jury Friday after a preliminary hearing.

Magistrate Robert S. Heise continued the $3,500 bond under which the 17-year-old Annapolis High School graduate has been free since shortly after her arrest. The grand jury is to convene Oct. 17.

Cooley, 20, died of knife wounds received at the Heavener home in the Eastport section July 19. He was employed as a lifeguard at Bay Ridge Beach after his discharge from the Marine Corps.

A companion, Marine Pfc. Victor Gerald Vanous of Annapolis, testified that he and Cooley had gone to the Heavener home about 4 p.m., went out about an hour later to get a case of beer and returned. The stabbing incident occurred about 10 a.m.

Vanous testified that Cooley had been "quarrelsome" since they had arrived at the house and had "consumed eight or nine beers" during the course of the evening.

Under questioning, by State Atty. C. Osborne Duval, he said he did not know whether Miss Heavener had anything to drink.

Vanous said that shortly before the stabbing Cooley and Miss Heavener were in a room upstairs and that he (Vanous) was in the basement.

Vanous said Miss Heavener called to him to come upstairs "because she did not want to be alone" with Cooley. He said when he arrived, the two were arguing and "George was laughing at her." He said Cooley also made "obscene remarks" to Miss Heavener.

Vanous said the two resumed their quarreling in the kitchen.

He said he saw Linda with a knife in her hand but could not clearly recall exactly what happened next.

"Linda ran from the kitchen. She was screaming hysterically," Vanous said. He said Cooley, who had been wounded, ran out of the kitchen door and Vanous followed him outside.

He said he made Cooley lie on the ground until an ambulance arrived. Cooley died later at Anne Arundel General Hospital.

of any case with them—the bank board members — including this one."

Albert J. Robertson, chairman of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, said of King's statement: "Some of the essential, bare facts are correct but the implications and sequence are not." Robertson said he would have no other comment until he had had an opportunity to study King's statement.

In contending the arrangement was engineered for Nixon, King said, "A government agency is directing the insidious job and the little people are footing the bill."

Clock told The Associated Press: "It's ridiculous. We've had only a minor part of the work. The principal litigation in federal court has been carried on by the U.S. attorney's office. Any money we received was for a proper legal service we performed for a representative of the Federal Home Loan Bank . . . The fee was based on a very modest rate."

Clock added: "And it was not on a retainer basis. If we don't do anything, we don't get anything."

Light Pole Plan Is Explained

C. Eric Roeder, 808 Trost Avenue, this week explained his proposal to the City of Cumberland for the reuse of light poles which are to be removed from downtown streets.

In his letter to city officials, he said he would like to see them used on Piedmont Avenue from Columbia Avenue to Trost Avenue.

He related that he was willing to pour concrete bases and furnish bolts, paint and raise the poles free of any cost to the city.

Traffic using the street to the Allegany Instrument Company, he said, would be benefited, as well as the people from over the county who go there. A well lighted street, he said, would be the result.

During a conference Monday, G. Ray Light, commissioner of water and electric light, declined the offer, saying the standards and fixtures are wired for underground cable which is not available on Piedmont Avenue, that most of the transformers which serve the lights are bad and would be costly to replace, and that the proposal would put the city back in the lighting business, when it is less expensive to lease lighting service.

played at the Luke mill of West Virginia Pulp and Paper.

A reception was held at the Tea Room in Westernport. A three-tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom, centered the table. White candles completed the motif. The cake was served by Mrs. Mary Brown and Miss Mary Frances Patrone of Piedmont. Mrs. Dorothy Jenkins and Miss Ramona Mosser, Keyser, presided at the punch bowl. Miss Betty Pearl Hott, Fairfax, Va., was in charge of the guest book.

The couple left for a wedding trip to Atlantic City. For traveling, the bride wore a yellow cotton batiste dress, with white accessories, and white orchid corsage. Mr. and Mrs. Farris will resume their studies this fall at their respective colleges.

A shift in the course of the Atlantic Ocean's warm Gulf Stream once caused such a drop in water temperature that tilefish perished in a four-thousand-square-mile area of sea. For a time, it seemed as if this once-popular food fish would be wiped out.

Chamber Plans Annual Drive For Members

C. M. Sanner, president of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce, and Robert Little Ebert, chairman of the membership committee, announced yesterday that the annual membership drive will be held Thursday, September 15.

It will be a one-day drive, starting off with a breakfast in the morning for campaign workers. Mr. Ebert said mailings have already started, going to prospective members, and they will be receiving information on chamber activities, projects and policies almost daily from now until the drive.

The chamber will use 50 campaign workers in teams of two and is shooting for a goal of 100 new members.

"The chamber's program for the year is more extensive and more costly than ever before," Mr. Sanner said. "It will be necessary to add the support of the many business and professional men who are not associated with the chamber at present. The work of the chamber is beneficial to everyone in the area and we are asking all of these people to help maintain it."

Championship Award, 14 Ribbons Won At Fair

Two Allegany County 4-H'ers and a local 4-H Club won awards at the Maryland State Fair held at Timonium Tuesday.

Donna Simpson of the Cresaptown 4-H Club won 10 ribbons in the 4-H Food Preservation entries at the state fair.

She placed first with her half peaches entry and received three second place awards and six third place. They were second place for sliced peaches, huckleberries and black raspberries. Her other ribbons were for whole beets, whole kernel corn, peas, whole tomatoes, tomato juice and rhubarb.

Baltimore Pike Boys 4-H Club won the champion award for its exhibit on world friendship through 4-H in the club activities exhibit. The exhibit consisted of a globe which opens showing a 4-H'er inside meeting an International Youth representative.

Gary Ranker won four awards in the 4-H honey exhibits. He placed first in the light comb honey, light honey extracted and chunk honey; and received a third place ribbon in the dark honey extracted class.

Songfest Planned

A songfest to conclude programs for the summer has been planned by the Union Grove Camp Meeting Association. It will be held September 11 at 2 p.m. at the camp grounds. Rev. Louis Emerick will be in charge. Any group of singers wishing to participate may call Rev. Emerick. September 12 there will be a meeting of the stockholders and directors at the camp grounds at 7:30.

Bridesmaids Entertain

Miss Teatette Shelton, fiancée of Rev. Bruce K. Price, was honored at a shower given by her bridesmaids at the Ali Ghan Country Club. Hostesses were Miss Beth Sheehy, Miss Frances Kennedy, Miss Janet Shanholtz, Miss Sandra George and Miss Donna Stine.

White bells, trimmed with flowers and stars, were used in the decorations.

Guests were Miss Donna George, Miss Patricia Head, Miss Barbara Miller, Miss Sally Gerson, Miss Adella Roberts, Miss Mary Ann Cuba, Mrs. Gorman Davis, Miss JoAnn Carscaden, Miss Susan Geppert, Miss Sue Cessna, Miss Donna Walker, Miss Joy Luckiewicz, Miss Frances Specht, Miss Norma Lea Smith, Miss Patricia Paxton, Miss Elizabeth Roeder, Miss Betsy White, Miss Patricia Samples, Mrs. Richard Shelton and Mrs. Charles Price.

Plan Party

Members of the Hap-O-Happy Club formulated plans for a games party and to resume regular meetings October 7, at the Girl Scout house. A corn roast and covered dish supper was held Tuesday in the garden of Mrs. Lelia Gould, 528 Washington Street.

The party concluded summer outings.

PRESENTS CHECK — On behalf of the Jaycees, Mrs. Laura Murray presented a check of $120 to Robert Wolford, director of the Green Ridge Camp for Boys yesterday. The proceeds from the annual spring card party given by the Jaycees will be used to purchase recreation equipment at the camp. In previous years the Jaycees made donations to the Crippled Children's League and the Girl Scouts.

Two Brides Entertained By CBYF

The Baptist Youth Fellowship of Calvary Church, Cresaptown, entertained with two wedding showers in honor of Mrs. Patricia Crawford Skidmore and Mrs. Jeanette Ginger Davis Reeder. The former is a member of the youth group and the latter of the Sunday school class.

Both were held in the church annex, which was decorated in pink and white streamers. Crepe paper rosebuds were used on the table, to which streamers were attached. Shower games featured the entertainment. Approximately 10 guests attended each party.

The marriage of Miss Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Davis, Cresaptown, to Max S. Reeder, son of Mrs. Naomi E. Reeder and the late Stanley N. Reeder, RD 3, Bedford, was performed July 2 in Trinity Methodist Church by Rev. Louis L. Emerick. The bride is a graduate of Allegany High School and attended Catherman's Business School. She is employed by the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company. The bridegroom is a graduate of Bedford High School and is employed by the Queen City Dairy.

Miss Crawford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Crawford, Cresaptown, became the bride of James Christian Skidmore Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James Christian Skidmore, August 13. The ceremony was solemnized in Eckhart Baptist Church, with Rev. Brooks N. Henry officiating. The bride is a graduate of Allegany High School, class of 1960, and is employed at Allegany Ballistics Laboratory. The bridegroom is a graduate of Allegany High School, class of 1959, and is employed at the A&P Supermarket.

Omicron BSP Rated 'Three-Star' Chapter

Omicron Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi has received official notification from the International Association that it has been accredited a "Three-Star Chapter" for 1959-60, Miss Patricia Golden, president, said last evening.

The ultimate goal of each chapter, the rating is based on its year's activities. They include the specified number of meetings; the percentage of attendance, cultural programs, social activities, financial status, money-raising activities, rushing, pledge training meetings, routine reports, service projects, committee preparation, policy and procedure of BSP, participation in City Council activities, and organizing an Exemplar chapter. A list of all the Three-Star chapters will appear in one of the fall issues of the Torch, official magazine.

Opening the fall season, Omicron Chapter will hold a dinner meeting Tuesday, with Xi Omicron Chapter. It will be held at Central YMCA at 6:30. Miss Helen Mae Kreiling, president of Xi Omicron, will conduct the opening ritual. Miss Golden is to lead a discussion on rushing, jointly by the two chapters.

Church Women Outline Activities For Year

Announcements of projects and programs featured the first fall meeting of the United Church Women held Thursday at St. John's Lutheran Church. Mrs. E. E. Miller presided. Devotions were led by Miss Grace Stiner. Her theme was "Judge Not, That You Be Not Judged," and "Who Is My Neighbor?" Routine reports were given by Mrs. J. A. Leader and Mrs. Virginia Shewbridge.

Announcement was made by Mrs. Edgar Shoemaker that the film, "Sustaining Bread," is available for use in different churches by calling PA 2-1222. Mrs. Merle Shumaker reported the group will sew for the Associated Charities at the Singer Sewing Center September 9, beginning at 10 a.m.

The statewide Institute on Christian Social Relations, sponsored by the United Church Women at Annapolis, was announced by Mrs. F. Lee Fresh, state May Fellowship chairman. It will be held October 27-28. Overnight hospitality will be given by UCW of Anne Arundel County. Mrs. Fresh also spoke of the radio program on "Family Living," sponsored by the national council over NBC. Discussing the coming election Mrs. Fresh urged the women to study the issues and vote as it affects the entire world. Miss Olive Simpson will teach a class on "Political, non-partisan Platforms." Some 20 women signed to attend. The date and place for the classes will be selected later.

November 4 was announced by Mrs. John S. Cook state chairman of World Community Day, as the date for the service, which will be held in St. John's Church, Cumberland. Mrs. Robert Nimon reported the World Day of Prayer observance will be held February 17, and urged the women to double the attendance and offering this year, as it will be the 75th anniversary

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm 17 and feel like a big failure in life. A certain fellow I know is absolutely the dream of every girl in school.

Well, it finally happened. He asked for a date. I was in my glory. The next night he came over and we went for a ride. He said he was in love with me and wanted me to be his girl. I don't know what came over me, but I lost all my will power. I was putty in his hands and you can guess the rest.

He didn't call me the next day like he said he would. Two days passed and he still didn't call. I couldn't stand it any longer so I phoned him. He said he was busy with his boat and would call me soon.

He never did call. I've seen him at parties, at a ball game and on the street. He says "Hi" and goes right on.

Please don't bawl me out, Ann. I know what I did was wrong and also stupid. It didn't help me to keep the boy, it made me lose him. What I want to know is WHY? After all, I did what he wanted me to. Please explain.—THE PHOOL

DEAR PHOOL: The boy feels guilty and ashamed. He wants to forget what happened. When he sees you it's a reminder, so naturally he avoids you.

We all like people who bring out the best in us, not the worst. You made this boy think poorly of himself as well as of you.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband and I are friendly with several couples who have children from seven to 15 years of age. At the moment a heated argument is raging in the kitchen.

Our nine-year-old daughter belongs to a dancing club. This club is putting on a recital to raise funds for a worthy cause. Donna wants to sell tickets to our friends who will be at our home next week for a party. The tickets are 75c each. This will not break anybody and the cause is a good one.

My husband is against it. Donna and I are for it. What do you say?—SPLIT ASUNDER

DEAR SPLIT: It's in bad taste to attempt to sell anything to guests in your home. The price of the tickets and the worthiness of the cause are incidental.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband and I just re-carpeted our home. It took a long time to save the money for the type of floor covering we wanted.

My husband's maiden aunt has two miniature poodles. These dumb dogs are her whole life. The carpeting wasn't down three days when she brought the dogs over and they initiated the carpeting in two places.

My husband became upset and told his aunt if the dogs couldn't behave better she should not bring them into nice homes. His aunt said the dogs were a little nervous and ought to be forgiven. One word led to another and finally my husband said, "You are welcome here, but your dogs are not." She left in a huff.

My husband feels guilty and wonders if he should call her and apologize?—BYSTANDER

DEAR BYSTANDER: Your husband didn't bar his aunt from his home. He merely made it clear that she's welcome without the dogs. He's right and no apology is indicated.

To learn the knack of feeling comfortable with the opposite sex, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "How To Be Date Bait," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

Plan Ahead To Insure Job-Interview Success

If you are planning a job hunt come October or November, start now to consider your possibilities. Ask yourself what it is you are really looking for. Write down a list of your assets: your schooling and career knowledge. Make a list of the firms where openings might be available to someone with your qualifications. If you can't match yourself to a specific opportunity, don't hesitate to seek professional advice.

The individual in any hiring capacity wants a worker who is enthusiastic, intelligent, sensible, attractive; one who appears able to contribute something to the business. This is the kind of person whose job hunt is successfully closed, in contrast to the prospect who is dull, lifeless, untidy — or incoherent.

Your appearance is important! Being attractive and neatly dressed is a responsibility that goes with any job. Such a crackerjack look is just as essential to a pre-job interview. It adds to your own confidence, and makes a favorable impression on a prospective employer.

Carry a brief prospectus along, should you be asked for a record of your accomplishments. But don't expect to depend entirely upon the written word! Some in-

Patricia Anne Elrod Is Bride Of Paul Farris

Miss Patricia Anne Elrod, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. C. H. Elrod of Brenton, Va., became the bride of Paul Farris, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Farris of Westernport, August 27. The wedding ceremony was solemnized in the Church of God, Piedmont, with the father of the bride officiating.

The bridal party included Mrs. Linda Wilson, Piedmont, as matron of honor; Miss Donna Farris, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Elizabeth Ann Suter, Piedmont, bridesmaids. Robert Baul, Westernport, served as Mr. Farris' best man, while Ronald Arnold, Westernport, and Frank Neal, Washington, were the ushers.

A program of wedding music and the traditional wedding marches were played by Miss Linda Gale Reed, Cleveland, Tenn., who also accompanied Mrs. Shirley Kesner, Keyser, who sang "Tell Me Why," "The Sweetest Story Ever Told," and "The Wedding Prayer."

The altar was decorated with white chrysanthemums and large ferns. Satin bows marked the family pews.

Given in marriage by Rev. LeRoy Imperio, the bride wore a gown of white silk organza, fashioned with a Sabrina neckline and short sleeves. The full skirt featured tiny lace scallops. Her fingertip-length veil of French illusion fell from a Juliet cap trimmed with tiny seed pearls. Completing her costume, she carried a white prayer book topped with a white orchid centering a cascade of Stephanotis.

The bride is a graduate of Piedmont High School, class of 1958, and of Potomac State College in January. She is now entering her final semester at Concord College, Athens, W. Va.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Bruce High School, class of 1957. He attended Bob Jones University in Tennessee and is employed in Tennessee and is employed in Tennessee and is employed in Tennessee.

Personals

Mrs. Clara M. Vidler, Akron, Ohio, former resident, and Rev. and Mrs. Irvin W. Emmons and daughter, Constance, of Marion, Ohio, have returned home after visiting Mrs. Ralph Gantt, 1015 Bedford Street.

Grace Heavener, daughter of Mrs. Lena Heavener, Wiley Ford, has returned to her position as school nurse at West Virginia School for the Deaf and Blind, Romney. She spent the summer as camp nurse at Camp Galilee, Terra Alta.

You'll rate even higher in that person's possibility file if you write a brief note, afterwards, saying thanks for the interview.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Gospel	20	35
Monday	Psalm	120	7-10
Tuesday	Philippians	2	3-4
Wednesday	Matthew	7	2-8
Thursday	Romans	8	27-29
Friday	Psalm	5	7-8
Saturday	John	14	1-4

A familiar sight . . . men with briefcases daily throng airports all over the nation, winging their way from one place to another. But where, really, are they going?

In this busy age of appointments, rush hours, and summit meetings, we search for success, for more money, for a better future, for a variety of things. Yet, like so many mid-twentieth century Americans, the harder we seek the less we find.

We need a job, a purpose, a home, a family. But also, we need a church. We need to go into that church to reaffirm our faith both in God and in our fellow beings. Only then does our quest — and our ultimate destination — begin to make sense.

THE LITTLE WOMAN

"When I was young I used to write poetry, too . . . but, of course, I didn't dress like that."

Keeping Up With Hollywood by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD — The beatnik's will be his double. From Spain, delight, Sai Mineo, will shampoo where Larry is now. I get word the oil out of his dark locks to that he won't even be in the USA, take on the spiritual role of the until the middle of September. hero in "Little Shepherd of King-Then he isn't traveling farther dom Come" for Robert Lippert at west than New York.

Years ago, this fine old classic was one of Richard Barthelmess' hits and later it was made by Jack Pickford.

Sai has been in Israel making "Exodus" with Paul Newman and Eva Marie Saint but the Otto Preminger production is completed. While Sai was still on location he sent me the most amusing letter about how crazy the young people in Israel are to learn everything about the American beatniks. "As I know less than nothing about the breed, I had to ask my brother to send me a book on beatniks so I could retain my popularity with the young Israelites," Sai wrote.

George Jessel's pride and joy, 19-year-old Jerilyn Jessel (is it possible she's that old?) is being married in Maryland on Sept. 10 to Paul Henry Jacobson. Beyond the fact that he's a "non-pro" I have no added information on the bridegroom-to-be. But a friend in Hollywood who has received one of the formal invitations believes he is a school sweetheart of Jerilyn's.

She has been living with her mother Lois Andrews in Maryland ever since Lois married Major Kleckner about five years ago. I hear Jerilyn is a lovely and very studious girl.

George had expected to be in Europe on Sept. 10—but I bet he flies to Maryland for the wedding.

If anyone resembling Laurence Olivier shows up in Hollywood on Tuesday for Joan Plowright's opening in "Taste of Honey"—it

There will be a little girl in the Jerry Lewis home by Christmas time, a "real life doll" around the Christmas tree with Jerry and Patti and the five Lewis boys. Jerry and Patti have hoped for a daughter for 16 years and each time the stork has delivered a son—they range in age from 9 months to 15 years—but Santa Claus with the aid of a local adoption agency has promised a little girl by the holidays. Can you imagine the excitement for that almost all-male menage?

Resolution Criticizing Two Officials Dies

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (UPI)—A resolution condemning the sheriff and prosecutor of Tucker County failed to get any place at the West Virginia Chamber of Commerce convention here.

But the sponsor, former Southern Coal Producers Association secretary Walter R. Thurmond, Charleston, said he accomplished his primary purpose.

The resolution by Thurmond criticized Atty. Gen. W. W. Barron for failure to ask for a special grand jury session at Parsons to seek ouster of the sheriff and prosecutor for alleged failure to prevent violence at a strikebound charcoal plant at Parsons.

The chamber's industrial relations committee refused to adopt the resolution for submission to the full convention. However, Thurmond said he was not disappointed. "At least I've called their attention to the matter," he said.

Rotarians Attend Outdoor Meeting

LONA CONING — A wiener and corn roast was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Warnick, Gilmore, Thursday evening, attended by the Lonaconing Rotarians.

A softball game followed the outdoors feast at the Warnick farm. Two boys of the Forestry Camp, Don Martin and John Brooks, were guests.

The Boys Forestry Camp team played a softball practice game with the Rotary Club men Friday, September 2, at the Lonaconing Pony League field.

Board of directors meeting will be held September 8, at the home of William Hadley.

Bishop To Visit Mt. Savage Sunday

MT. SAVAGE — The Rt. Rev. Harry Lee Doll, bishop co-adjutor of the Diocese of Maryland will make his visitation to St. George's Parish Church, Mt. Savage, Sunday, when he will administer the Sacrament of Confirmation, be celebrant at Holy Communion and preach at the 10:45 a.m. service. There will be 9:30 a.m. Church School also beginning this Sunday.

Parochial School To Open In Keyser

KEYSER — Classes at St. Francis Parochial School will begin Tuesday. According to Sister Mary Genevieve, principal, enrollment should number 134 and have four faculty members.

Sister Genevieve will teach the seventh and eighth grades; Sister Mary Macelle, fifth and sixth; Sister Mary Roberta, third and fourth; and Sister Marie James, first and second grades.

Sister Mary Roberta is new to the faculty. She formerly taught at St. Joseph's Monastery in Baltimore.

Elks Jamboree Is Tonight

FROSTBURG — Final arrangements for the Elks jamboree have been completed according to Dr. William Powers, chairman of the planning committee. All Elks and guests are invited to attend the affair tonight beginning at 10 p.m. at the Elks home. The "Starlighters" will provide music for dancing.

Serving with Powers are Leslie Brode, Addis Wilson, Robert Delaney, James Brady and Darrell Zeller.

DEATHS AND FUNERAL NOTICES

Rowlesburg's Oldest Man Dies At 94

The oldest male resident of Rowlesburg, who has possessed since 1953 the town cane signifying that he was the community's oldest man, died Thursday in Preston County Memorial Hospital, Kingwood.

He was Alpha Ellsworth Messenger, 94, a retired Rowlesburg area farmer and B&O Railroad trackman.

The town cane, handmade of curly maple stock, traditionally is held by the oldest male resident. It will be transferred to the new village elder.

Mr. Messenger, who has been bedfast for some time, had been a patient in the hospital for eight days.

He was born April 2, 1866, at Salt Lick, near Rowlesburg, a son of the late Henry S. and Susan Messenger.

His wife, Mrs. Laura Agnes (Robinson) Messenger, died September 13, 1956, and one of his two daughters, Mrs. May Karnes, died August 11.

He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Elva Reed, at home; three grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

The body is at the Fike-Watson Funeral Home, Rowlesburg. Services will be conducted Sunday at 2 p.m. by Rev. Allen Parrish, pastor of Christ Methodist Church, Rowlesburg.

GEORGE F. SANBURY

George Plack Sanbury, 86, of 604 Washington Street, a former architect here, died yesterday in the Allegheny County Infirmary where he was admitted in May last year.

Clean-Up, Paint-Up Week Program Is Outlined

WESTERNPORT — An appropriate program will be presented each day during Clean-Up and Paint-Up Week in the Tri-Towns, September 11-17.

Alton Fortney announced at a meeting of the executive committee of the Tri-Towns Community Council Tuesday night in Church of the Brethren that letters are being prepared and sent to pastors of area churches, asking them to announce the campaign September 11 and solicit cooperation.

A parade will be staged September 12 at 7:30 p.m. Vincent Laffey, commander of Victory Post 155, American Legion, is chairman.

September 13 will be Health Day. The Johnstown Red Cross bloodmobile unit will be at Piedmont Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Marie Fromhart, Allegheny County health nurse of Westernport and McCoole, will conduct a baby clinic in the afternoon at the Westernport Health Center.

Fire prevention will be stressed September 14. "Safety" will be the theme for September 15. Lester Anderson, development safety manager at the Luke mill of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company, is chairman for the program. Posters will be placed in store windows and booklets on how to avoid accidents will be distributed by Boy Scouts to all the homes in the Tri-Towns.

September 16 has been set aside as "Scrap Day." Town trucks of the three communities will pick up trash.

Mayor Ray L. Wilt, Westernport; Mayor Rodney Baker, Piedmont; and Mayor Edward Duckworth of Luke will tour the three towns September 17, after which they will prepare a report on progress made during the week.

The Tri-Towns Community Council is sponsoring the project.

Sesquicentennial Plans Underway At Frostburg

FROSTBURG — Mayor Joseph E. James stated today that a public meeting will be held September 20 in City Hall at 7:30 p.m. to discuss plans for Frostburg's proposed sesquicentennial celebration in 1962.

James pointed out that a letter will be mailed to the heads of all city fraternal, service and social organizations, asking that a committee of two or three persons be appointed to attend the meeting.

The Mayor and Council will formulate initial projects and appoint a steering committee to head the proposed observance.

Organization heads have been asked to notify the mayor of their appointments so a notice may be sent to them as a reminder of the September meeting.

Reds Haggle Over Means, Not Ends

It would be easy to make too much of Sino-Soviet differences over whether war is inevitable. The differences clearly exist. Peiping says war against "American imperialism" is inevitable. Moscow doesn't deny outright that it may regard such a war as necessary, but engages in the pretension at least that it may not.

It cites Lenin and Marx in support of its contention that "peaceful coexistence" may lead to Communist victory without war.

This is an argument over methods, not goals. And the argument itself may be merely a smoke screen. Moscow and Peiping are determined to achieve world victory with whatever weapons are necessary. They are agreed that if Communist victory can be achieved only by war, then war must come.

So the significance of the argument to the Western world lies more in what the "disputants" agree on than in what they disagree over. The West is in the position of a man hearing others dispute over whether to shoot him or charitably starve him to death. Either way they intend, in Khrushchev's words, to bury him.

It is possible, of course, that some day the disagreements between Soviet Russia and Red China will become more acute. But there is nothing in their current ideological dispute to encourage the free world. A minor doctrinal dispute over how to enslave the world is not highly reassuring.

Matter Of Fact

By Joseph Alsop

In Dorset And Denmark

DORSET TOWNSHIP, Ohio

There is rather startlingly good news for Sen. John F. Kennedy, and proportionally bad news for Vice President Richard M. Nixon, here in Dorset Township and in neighboring Denmark Township in the agricultural outback of Ohio's Ashtabula County.

No other conclusion can reasonably be drawn from the results of a long, toilsome but enjoyable day of doorbell ringing in these two townships by Ray Dorsey and Bill Williams, of the "Cleveland Plain Dealer," and this reporter. The two townships had been chosen for us, as approximately typical of rural northern Ohio, by the "Plain Dealer's" knowledgeable farm editor, Robert J. Drake.

To put the news from Denmark and Dorset in the shortest manner, we got answers from forty-six men and women along Netcher Road and Traxler Road, the Footville-Richmond road, and other rural routes in the two townships.

In 1956, Denmark Township gave President Eisenhower 164 votes against 102 for Adlai E. Stevenson, and Dorset gave Eisenhower 260 votes against 124 for Stevenson. Thus our pollees who had voted in the last Presidential election represented rather more than 5 per cent of all the 1956 voters in the two townships. Our sample also favored the Republicans. Our previous voters had given Eisenhower a two-and-a-half to one majority in 1956, and they had even given former Governor O'Neill a majority of one in 1958, when Mike DiSalle defeated O'Neill, statewide, by a heavy margin.

Against this background, consider the present split of our sample: twenty votes for Kennedy, sixteen for Nixon, and ten undecided!

This is a dramatic transfer, by all the standards of professional polling. It remains dramatic even if you assume as we assume that about half of our ten previous non-voters will not vote in the end this time. And if you also split the undecided voters exactly evenly, as we think they will probably split.

Our little test in fact suggests that Kennedy will run close to even with Nixon, or maybe a hair better than even, in these two rural townships which Eisenhower took by an overall majority of 424 to 226. Furthermore, our sample's religious composition also favored Nixon. Here the split was forty-two Protestants to four Catholics, with equal numbers of Protestants choosing Kennedy and Nixon.

What, then, has gone wrong for the Republicans in these two townships? In part, the answer is suggested by the mere look of the countryside. It is a pretty countryside, of broad fields and green woodlots, well-watered, and once prosperous, as the numerous small farm houses testify. But the number of barns no longer in use, and the further number of places farmed on a part-time basis, by factory-worker-farmers, both testify that this area is not prosperous now.

It is the kind of American farming area that has suffered especially heavily because of the increasing competitive problems of family-sized farms. It is suffering, too, because the current slowdown in business has led to heavy layoffs in Ashtabula, where many of the factory-worker-farmers had jobs. Surprising numbers of the older people are also angry about the Eisenhower administration's positions on social security payments and medical care for the aged.

The so-called religious issue counts here, but not much. We ran into one prosperous lumber dealer who declared grimly that he "couldn't vote for Kennedy because he was a Catholic, nor for Nixon because he was a crook." But all but one other in the group who admitted "concern" about Kennedy's Catholicism, were either more concerned about Nixon's Republicanism, or would have voted Republican anyway, even if Kennedy had been a Baptist.

Over-all, it would seem that farm troubles, job troubles, and troubles abroad (which were often mentioned), plus President Eisenhower's conservatism about social welfare, have combined to take the gift off the gingerbread for all but the bedrock Republican faithful in Dorset and Denmark. There was no excessive liking for Kennedy. There was no strong dislike for Nixon, except among a minority largely composed of bedrock Democrats. The transfer of support was instinctive and impersonal.

For these very reasons, the transfer may not endure. In these two townships, as elsewhere in this reporter's recent doorbell ringing experiences, the campaign itself seems highly likely to sway many voters, including considerable numbers of those who say that "as of now" they would vote for one candidate or the other. The undecided group was large, too, yet this group included only one of those who seemed unlikely to vote in the end.

Although there is nothing in the least final in these results from two small, perhaps locally slanted Ohio townships' straws in the wind, these results are arresting to put it rather mildly.

'Well, We've Condemned It - Now What?'

What Happened To Patriotism, Anyway?

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Is loyalty becoming out of date, or are the recent defectors from the United States to Russia merely a group of frustrated individuals with perhaps a psychotic condition? Or is there a mood of complacency in America on the matter of internal subversion and a tendency to label all efforts to expose such subversion as just "McCarthyism"?

These questions bother a good many people inside and outside the government nowadays. The latest piece of information that gives rise to the discussion comes in a document just released by the Department of State through Senator Kenneth Keating of New York, a member of the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee, who put it in the "Congressional Record" this week. It tells about Dr. Maurice H. Halperin, a former Boston University professor and wartime intelligence officer, who now is behind the Iron Curtain "working for the Soviet government." He is one of the individuals who made the headlines in 1953 when he was fired from his job at Boston University for refusing to answer questions by a Congressional committee about his connections with the Communists.

Professor Halperin and his wife on July 15 asked the American Embassy at Moscow to renew their passports. Congress has been so lax about passing the necessary legislation to regulate the issuance of passports that it is possible these passport renewals will have to be issued to the Halperins, and they then can travel in Europe and elsewhere as they please.

The State Department was advised that Professor Halperin, who is an expert on Latin American affairs, told the embassy that he was doing "research" on underdeveloped countries for the Soviet Academy of Sciences, which is "directly subordinate to the Soviet Council of Ministers."

The Halperins have been in Russia since December 1958, and went there by way of Mexico, where a case of deportation against them for alleged Communist activities had been under consideration by the Mexican government.

Incidentally, Professor Halperin helped Mr. and Mrs. Alfred K. Stern to escape from Mexico after the latter had been indicted by a U.S. federal grand jury on a charge of conspiring to obtain and transmit security information from the United States to Russia. Previously, the State Department says, the Sterns had obtained fraudulent Paraguayan passports which had been declared void by that country's government.

The State Department document further reveals that Halperin in the 1940s had supplied a Russian espionage agent with information "including mimeographed bulletins and reports prepared by the U.S. Office of Strategic Services on a variety of topics as well as excerpts from State Department cables to which he had access."

As for the Sterns, they are university graduates and well-to-do. Mrs. Stern is the daughter of a former American ambassador to Germany.

Within the last two weeks it was discovered that William H. Martin, 29, and Bernon F. Mitchell, 31, both of whom are bachelors and Navy veterans, had left the National Security Agency, where they were employed, and gone to Mexico and then to Havana prior to their disappearance, presumably behind the Iron Curtain. The NSA is the top military code agency of the U.S. government.

Here are two young Americans who had the advantage of good homes and good educations. What circumstances led to their mysterious behavior? As one high official puts it, they may be part of a group of individuals who become frustrated in their jobs and

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

'BANDWAGON' — To date, GOP Presidential nominee Richard M. Nixon has all the edge, so far as public opinion polls are concerned, at least.

There has been a proliferation of opinion sampling and vote counting since early spring when the political season opened. Polls have been taken to get the reaction of the nation's voters, state voters, city and farm voters, the elderly, the young—you name it.

In most of them Nixon has fared well, slipping behind his Democratic Presidential opponent, Senator John F. Kennedy, only occasionally.

At the GOP convention in Chicago in July, Nixon told reporters after he was nominated that he knew he was starting out behind. Since the recent rash of poll results favorable to Nixon, Kennedy's spokesmen have been making much of the fact that they are slightly behind.

Both men appear to be abandoning the well-worn political gambit of appearing to be ahead in order to create a "bandwagon" psychology. This year, it seems the popular thing to do is to "run scared."

Both Nixon and Kennedy have taken turns in extolling the virtues of running in this fashion. They contend it helps in getting out all the potential voters who are favorable to their own candidacy, and lends complacency to the forces of their opposition.

None of this has stopped supporters of the fellow who happens to be behind in the polls from attacking their accuracy and propriety in American political life. Right now it's the Democrats who are trying to belittle the significance of the polls, but in years past Republicans were just as vehement in their condemnation of the advance nose-counting.

Protein In Leaves Could Stretch Food Supply

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Leaves may be our next source of protein if population continues to increase and the regular food supply dwindles. These plants also may be the answer to malnutrition in Africa, Asia, and Latin America, where good food is scarce. All that is needed is the raw vegetation at hand and small biochemical plants where proteins are extracted from the green leaves.

Meats provide man with the most valuable proteins. Cattle and sheep eat grass and other vegetable material, extract the proteins, and concentrate the materials in their tissues. Poultry and fish perform a similar duty. But eating animal flesh is a luxury that only prosperous countries can afford.

Malnourishment is more likely to occur in areas where the land is not available for extensive animal husbandry. Overpopulation plays a role, and whenever the demand for food increases, the number of animals decreases. The land is needed to grow crops that people can eat rather than to support animals even though they are converted into food ultimately.

Vegetable proteins are considered inferior to those of animal origin but N. W. Pirie of the Rothamsted experimental station, England, believes suitable mixtures can be blended into a first class product. He has used wild and waste leaves, including those from certain water plants, sweet potatoes, sugar cane, banana and cassava. The source is limitless, considering that only about 100 of the third of a million known plants are used as nutrients.

The final product of his protein extract is a dark green cake with little or no smell or taste. It has the consistency of cheese or yeast and is 60 per cent water. It keeps for a week in air and indefinitely in the deep freeze.

Dr. Pirie has nothing to sell but offers his idea as a scientific approach to the protein shortage in many less fortunate countries. Leaves will not, at best, supply more than 10 per cent of our daily protein need. We still need more

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cert

Once in India, according to an old, old legend, there lived a giant and deadly cobra that terrorized villages in a radius of a hundred miles. A thousand Hindus and their prize cattle had died of its bite when an aged holy man appeared, preaching the doctrine of non-violence. "Convince the cobra," proposed the village chieftains, "and we too will believe."

The holy man thereupon found the cobra — and converted it! The cobra became so non-violent, in fact, that vengeful villagers kicked and clubbed it almost to death. But it got no sympathy from the holy man, however, when it slithered in to exhibit its bruises.

"You've gone too far," the holy man told it coldly. "I didn't say not to HISS!"

Nixon Will Woo Farm Vote With 'Federal Reserve' For Farmers

By Jack Anderson

(Editor's note — While Drew Pearson is taking a brief vacation, his column is being written by his associate, Jack Anderson.)

WASHINGTON—Vice President Nixon has what looks like a trump card up his sleeve in his bid for the farm vote. To a few personal confidants, he has revealed a radical departure from previous concepts of farm legislation.

Nixon will propose forming a group of impartial agriculture experts into something similar to the Federal Reserve Board which will turn on controls when it sees a surplus mounting, relax them when it sees a shortage coming.

Nixon tells friends that too much authority under the present system is held by the Secretary of Agriculture, who is subject both to strong political pressure, plus harsh political criticism. Also he is often overridden by Congress which gives the secretary the job of administering a program he doesn't like.

Congress, which fixes the overall policy and writes the farm laws, is torn by many sectional interests. The tobacco interests may want one thing, the corn farmers just the opposite. The cotton and dairy farmers are in direct conflict; also the grain powers and the dairy farmers. Thus one pressure group can block legislation which the other wants.

Nixon claims that American farmers are fed up with the haggling and wire-pulling of American politics. So he will propose a sort of federal reserve board for agriculture which would take farming out of politics and put major policy in the hands of experts answerable neither to the Secretary of Agriculture nor to Congress.

Note—Although partisan politics is pretty well kept out of the Federal Reserve Board, the board is frequently accused of playing big banker and Wall Street politics.

Dental Disagreement

The American Dental Association's apparent preference for Crest tooth paste, thanks to an ingredient called stannous fluoride, has caused a good many dentists to grit their teeth.

They have protested to ADA headquarters in Chicago against its statement recognizing Crest as "an effective anti-decay dentifrice." But the dental dignitaries have refused to back down.

Most dentists regard all pastes and powders as similar combinations of soap that foams, abrasive that scrapes, and flavor that makes them tolerable. The tiny trace of fluoride in Crest (four-tenths of 1 per cent) isn't enough, some say, to prevent decay.

For years, the ADA has scorned the tooth paste wonders which the industry has produced in the ballyhoo battle against halitosis, pyorrhea, pink toothbrush, and other oral evils. From Pepsodent's secretarium, which is nothing but a foaming compound, to Gleem's GL-70, which is a detergent of the kind used to brighten clothes, ADA has dismissed them all as no more effective than common table salt.

Dr. Harold Hellenbrand, ADA's dentist-in-chief, even shunned Crest at first brush.

"The American Dental Association is not aware of evidence," he said solemnly, "adequate to demonstrate the claimed dental prophylactic value of Crest."

But the Procter and Gamble soap empire finally convinced ADA's council of dental therapeutics that Crest had hidden benefits.

After evaluating clinical tests which the company arranged for its product, the council authorized the company to carry the following statement in its advertisements: "Crest has been shown to be an effective anti-decay dentifrice that can be of significant value when used in a conscientiously applied program of oral hygiene and regular professional care."

Market-Measuring

By Leslie Gould

Whether the stock market is up or down in a given day or period — from an individual investor's or speculator's viewpoint — depends on what stock performed that way.

The same for the Dow, Jones industrial price average, which is supposed to mirror the market — but doesn't with any degree of accuracy. To wit:

Three times this year the market has sold down to a low just under the 600 level in the Dow Jones average. And three times the market has come back.

In the latest recovery — from the July low — the market as measured by the D-J industrials has come back nearly 8 per cent.

A check through the list of all common shares traded on the N. Y. Stock Exchange shows that more than a quarter of the stocks have recovered 20 per cent or more in value. The number of shares that performed thusly exceeded 300.

About 45 per cent of these had gains of 20 to 29 per cent, 25 per cent showed 30 to 39 per cent gains, a little more than 11 per cent gains of 40 to 49 per cent and 19 per cent gains of 50 per cent or more.

Stocks that are currently more than double their low for the year are in the highly speculative class — there being five — Crowell Collier, Decca Records, Lionel, NAFL and Underwood —

Even such cautious approval made dental history. Now several disapproving dentists, possibly inspired in part by Crest's competitors, are trying to repeal the whole thing.

Note—Neil McElroy, the short-time Secretary of Defense who has now gone back to his workaday job as chairman of Procter and Gamble, treated the ADA pronouncement as if it were a breakthrough in missiles. He spoke of the company's "feeling of pride and accomplishment" over an "extremely important milestone."

Ike And Nixon Differed

Two weeks have now passed since President Eisenhower made his press conference statement that he, not Nixon, made policy decisions, but that he would search his mind to see what major ideas Nixon had contributed. Ike added this would take him about a week.

Meanwhile this column, digging through past records, has come up with one of the most important decisions of this administration in which Nixon threw his weight one way and Eisenhower the other. It bears out what the President said. This was the decision made in April 1954, then reversed, to risk war with Red China over French Indo-China.

Nixon played a vitally important part in the first decision to risk war, even announced to the American Society of Newspaper Editors on April 16 that the United States was ready to send troops into Indo-China.

Nixon had participated in the National Security Council discussions on this subject, after which Democratic leaders were tipped off to be prepared for full-scale intervention. It was Nixon's job to help mold public opinion through the dinner with the editors to get support for this drastic move in Indo-China.

Nixon handled his speech to the editors with great dexterity, carefully prepared them for the drastic step of war in a part of the world where Eisenhower had promised there would be no more "Koreas."

However, Eisenhower was weekending at Camp David when administration leaders met with Congressional leaders to warn them of war with Red China. When the President got back to town and began to scent unfavorable public reaction, he quickly reversed the decision made by his Vice President and the National Security Council. none of which qualify as of then or now as investment stocks. The same to a less extent the five that are up 75 to 99 per cent from their lows.

In the list of 45 that show a 50 to 74 per cent appreciation in price from their lows, there are some top drawer companies — like ABC—Paramount, American Motors, Boeing, Bristol Myers, Beckman, Commercial Solvents, Delta Airlines, Paramount and Procter & Gamble.

The point of this article is that except by an all inclusive price average there is no present way of accurately measuring the market. The Dow Jones industrial average covers only 30 stocks, and it is weighted so that it doesn't even accurately gauge the movements in the individual issues making up that index.

In fact, under a theory based on the Dow, Jones averages — that for the industrials and the second for 20 railroads — the market has been in a bear trend since March. That bear signal was given after the market had had a 90-point drop.

For investors that had the right stocks — those showing this 20 to more than 100 per cent rise from the year's low — this has been quite a bull market. At any time a buyer must be selective, and particularly so in times like these.

Consolidation Rescinded; Green Spring School Open

Green Spring, where residents lost their school Tuesday through the consolidation with Springfield School, had their school back again yesterday.

The Hampshire County Board of Education met last night in Romney with the new superintendent of schools, Bernard D. Hughes, and rescinded the action of Tuesday in consolidating the two schools at Springfield.

Green Spring School was opened yesterday with Mrs. Gladys Cheshire again serving as principal. The board also appointed Miss Elizabeth Ann Ansel and Miss Elaine Smith to the faculty.

Thursday morning was the first day of the fall term in Hampshire County, but Green Spring parents refused to send their children on the bus that arrived to take them to Springfield.

"We want our school kept here," one of the opponents reported. "It is the heart of our community."

Thursday night the president of the school's Parent-Teacher Association, Lilburn Henderson, conferred with Hughes and the five-member Board of Education.

Traffic Light Project Bids Asked By City

Bids are being asked by the Mayor and Council on two projects and will be opened Monday, September 12 at 10 a. m.

The projects are: (1) replacement and repairs to the Dingle Circle and Williams Street signal lighting system; and (2) furnishing the signal light system at Fifth Street and Laing Avenue intersection of Virginia Avenue.

In the case of the Dingle-Williams Street systems, work includes replacement and repairs to the two systems in accordance with specifications on file in the city engineer's office. Each bid must be accompanied by a certified check or bid bond of $100 and a performance bond in the full amount of the accepted bid is required of the successful bidder.

Bids must be marked "Proposal For Replacement and Repairs to Dingle Circle and Williams Street Signal Lighting System."

Work on the Virginia Avenue light includes installation of all equipment and material, specifications for which are on file in the engineer's office. Check or bid bond of $100 and a performance bond requirement also are required. Bids must be marked "Proposal For Furnishing the Signal Light System at Fifth Street and Laing Avenue Intersection of Virginia Avenue."

It would be rash at this time to predict the future of celibacy, the journal said. "Much more extensive clinical experience is necessary."

Penn Strike Boosts Rail, Bus Traffic

The strike which has shut down operation of the Pennsylvania Railroad is having some effect on railroads and bus lines in this area.

The Greyhound Bus Company reports that since the start of the strike Wednesday at midnight quite a large number of tickets have been sold for passengers traveling to New York and Philadelphia and other points near those cities.

It was explained that some persons bought tickets to Baltimore and then took the Pennsylvania to New York and points to the north. There is also an increase in the number of persons who go to Bedford and then take buses to the two metropolitan areas of New York and Philadelphia.

Both the B&O and Western Maryland report that some freight which was intended for shipment from their lines to the Pennsylvania is being rerouted. All shipments of perishable freight were stopped by the Pennsylvania when the strike appeared imminent.

The passenger traffic via bus lines is affected only eastbound.

Atkinson Is President Of Toastmasters

New officers of the Toastmasters Club were elected Thursday at a dinner-meeting in the cafeteria of Amcelle Plant of Celanese Fibers Company.

President is Patrick Atkinson, educational vice president, George O. Holler, administrative vice president, John F. Drummond, secretary, Wesley McGraw, treasurer, Ernest M. Fawcett, and sergeant-at-arms, Dr. Lawrence R. McKenzie.

A committee was appointed to plan for the installation at a dinner meeting next month.

Board Is Thanked

The Allegany County Cancer Society wrote the Allegany County Board of Commissioners a letter of thanks for a $500 donation to the society. The letter was signed by Mrs. Lucile W. Roeder, president of the society.

Card Of Thanks

We desire to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to our friends, neighbors and relatives who were so kind to us during our recent bereavement, the death of our beloved husband and father, Frank Hall. We especially wish to thank the Rev. Robert Hopkins, the pallbearers, those who sent floral tributes and those who donated the use of their cars for the funeral. To all others who in any manner rendered assistance, we are indeed grateful.

He pointed out that the character of the United Nations has changed — that many new countries are being admitted into the world organization. There are now 82 nations in the U.N. and by the end of the year there may be 95 or 96.

U.S. Finds Dangers

Sir Lloyd said that when the Freedom of Information convention came before the United Nations about 10 years ago it was closely examined by the free press of Britain, the United States, Australia and other countries. He said they found it "full of dangers" and their governments decided to oppose the proposed convention — which then lapsed.

Last December, however, the U.N.'s Economic and Social Council—apparently under pressure from some governments," according to Sir Lloyd—decided to revive the convention.

He mentioned that Belgium had proposed that to a paragraph in the preamble, dealing with the free interchange of "accurate, objective and comprehensive" information, there be added the words "from all sources." Belgium's proposal was rejected.

"The fact the committee rejected that proposal was most regrettable," Sir Lloyd said. "It indicated that what the sponsoring governments had in mind was that freedom should apply only to government news. All correspondents would get would be handouts.

"Other amendments made in

...one provide that freedom should apply only to news that was "accurate, objective and comprehensive," and the government would decide what items were outside that definition."

Tempest Blows Up

In the redrafting discussion last December a tempest blew up over the words "seek" and "gather" in respect to a journalist's function.

As originally drafted, the convention would require the signatory states to give their own journalists, and foreign correspondents as well, "freedom to seek, receive and impart without governmental interference and regardless of frontiers information and opinions, orally, in writing or in print."

The Philippines, along with Ethiopia, India, Saudi Arabia and Venezuela, proposed that the word "gather" replace "seek" in the draft. The committee adopted the amendment, 30-29.

The United States, Britain, Argentina and others defended the word "seek" as more precisely expressing the right of newspapermen to inquire and investigate. Russia and the Soviet bloc preferred the word "gather."

Sir Lloyd said that some governments feel that it is proper to control the news and opinions in their own country and news and

Asked if he thought the governments sponsoring the proposed convention would succeed in their purpose, Sir Lloyd replied:

"I have been told that they think they have the numbers. I hope they are wrong."

'Freedom Of Information' Resolution In U. N. May

Endanger Press Liberty

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
NEW YORK (UPI)—A prominent Australian journalist has warned that efforts to revive the Freedom of Information Convention...

being re-examined by the Third Committee of the U.N. for submission to the General Assembly. "This committee has already completed redrafting of the pre-end of the year there may 95 or 96.

U.S. Finds Dangers

Sir Lloyd said that when Freedom of Information convention came before the United Nations about 10 years ago it “dangerous” to a free press. Sir Lloyd Dumas, who is chairman and managing director of The Advertiser in Adelaide, Australia, said the proposed convention contained all sorts of possibilities for the governments sponsoring it.

foring it to restrict news
Sir Lloyd took a prominent part about 10 years ago in inducing the United Nations to drop a proposed convention on Freedom of Information. This convention, he said, was condemned by the press and the governments of these countries are seeking to get the authority of the United Nations to extend these practices and give respectability to them.
There are 18 articles in the original convention. It was Sir all democratic countries, and when its dangers were pointed out, it was allowed to lapse.

Convention Is Revived

Now the convention is being revived. Sir Lloyd said while visiting New York. He said it is clear that the convention "is being disseminated, has produced sharply conflicting opinions among nations and is causing concern among many leading newspapermen of the free world. "There is already in the files of the United Nations a Declaration of Freedom of Information, which that proposal was most relevant," Sir Lloyd said. "It indicated that what the sponsors of governments had in mind was that freedom should apply to government news. All correspondents would get would be handouts."

allowed to lapse, he said, is now submitted by the United States which sets out admirably the purpose of the United Nations Charter on this subject," declared Sir Lloyd.

"It calls for no government action, but outlines clearly the goal which all countries where freedom is not complete should strive to gain."

The declaration asserts that the right to know and the right to freely seek the truth are inalienable and fundamental rights of man. It also says:

"All governments should pursue policies under which the free flow of information within countries and across frontiers, will be protected.

"The right to seek and transmit information should be assured, in order to enable the public to ascertain facts and appraise events."

Pre-Labor Day Caution Reigns On Stock Market

NEW YORK (UPI)—Wall Street had only half a mind on its business Friday as the holiday weekend took priority over stock trading.

With few exceptions the list drifted into a broad and aimless daydream and remained in the sluggish state until the final bell.

A large segment of the financial community apparently embarked on their holiday hiatus as early as possible, having set their books in order during the past few days of relatively high volume.

Speculative fever having cooled from the week's frantic pace, volume Friday sagged to 2,680,000 shares from 3,460,000 Thursday.

Industrial stocks, as measured by the Dow-Jones average, eased .08 while rails slipped .07 and utilities .03.

Steels generally were about 1/2 point lower among the leading issues while motors shed fractions. Ford inched up 1/4. Chemicals moved narrowly without a feature, Eastman Kodak dropping a point.

Chicago Grains
CHICAGO (UPI)—Grain futures closed irregularly lower Friday after rallying from an earlier decline.
At the final bell, wheat was unchanged to 1 1/2; corn 1/4 to 1/2; oats 1/4 to 1/2; soybeans 1/4 to 1/2; and soybean meal 1/4 to 1/2.
A private report which raised production estimates on wheat, corn and soybeans, touched off early selling in those grains.
Wheat lost a half cent and soybeans as much as 1/2 cent a bushel before prices recovered.
Exports brought wheat against overnight and anticipated export sales. Reports that farm selling continued light also helped the market. Northwest brokers held steady. Some traders took September against sales of December. Commercial interests bought December, which commission houses sold.
Oats were mostly steady. Longs sold September, while cash houses took September and sold December.
Nearby futures closed weak and other months steady.
Commodity houses sold the buying in soybeans after the early decline. Commercial interests also bought. Oils and meals firmed. Higher oil and hog prices leded hard futures.
The U. S. and Canadian grain markets will be closed Monday for the Labor Day holiday.

Three-Alarm Blaze Damages Local Residence

Allegany Street House Is Guttled

A three-alarm fire at 117 South Allegany Street virtually gutted a two-story brick house which was being converted into a two-family residence.

Mrs. Minnie Bogner, 812 Camden Avenue, purchased the 11-room house this summer from Thomas Sheehee and was nearly finished converting it for two-family use.

Firemen were unable to determine immediately the cause of the fire but it was believed to have started in the first-floor kitchen and worked its way upward at the rear to the attic. Flames still were shooting out of the attic windows some 40 minutes after West Side firemen got the first call at 9:53 p.m.

Three Companies Called

Central firemen were called at 9:54 p.m. and five minutes later East Side firemen also responded on the third alarm.

Many policemen also were called to the scene to direct the flow of traffic.

The rather spectacular fire also attracted hundreds of spectators, many of whom came from the nearby heavily traveled Greene Street.

At 11 p.m. the roof of the house was still ablaze as firemen fought to keep the flames from spreading to adjacent houses only a few feet away. Some windows in the apartment house at 115 South Allegany Street were damaged by the heat.

At 11:15 p.m., Fire Chief Virgil A. Parker and Assistant Chief Alvey Poole, who were directing the fire-fighting operations, figured they had the blaze under control. The worst of the fire damage appeared to be concentrated in the attic, although water damage throughout was extensive.

Workmen who had been completely renovating the building, left the house about 8:30 p.m.

Neighbor Saw Fire

The flames were spotted about 9:50 p.m. by W. C. Aub, who has an apartment at 115 South Allegany, and he notified firemen.

Leonard "Chick" Little, who was preparing to move into the upstairs apartment of the fire-gutted house, said virtually all of his household furnishings were lost in the blaze.

Water damage was expected to be large as firemen played heavy streams in an attempt to quell the flames. Six lines were played on the fire.

Mrs. Bogner reported that she carried some insurance on the premises but was uncertain of the exact extent of its coverage.

Senior Citizens Club Meetings Resume Sept. 8

The Senior Citizens Club of the City Recreation Department will resume meetings Thursday, September 8, at 2 p.m. in the Elks Home here.

Mrs. Eva Hogan, advisor, said all members are urged to attend the meeting since plans for the fall and winter program will be formulated.

A membership contest will also be developed in team form.

Club activities were suspended for the summer after an outdoor event held at the North End field house in June.

The club at present has 50 regular members, and attendance ranges between 24 and 36.

All persons 60 or over are eligible to become members of the club. Mrs. Hogan said membership is not restricted to residents of Cumberland, since the club is self supporting.

Local Serviceman "Airman Of Month"

Airman 2C Thomas V. Wegman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent H. Wegman, 19 Valley Street, a member of Headquarters Squadron Section, 4138th Strategic Wing (SAC), Turner Air Force Base, Albany, Ga., was recently named "Airman of the Month" of the unit.

The award was presented by Captain James H. Tucker, commanding officer of the unit, for "his outstanding qualities as an airman" and the selection is based on such factors as "duty performance, military bearing and courtesy, personal appearance and personal initiative."

Airman Wegman, who will complete four years of service in December, enlisted in the Air Force here. Prior to entering the service he attended LaSalle High School and Allegany High School. He is home on a weekend pass.

Top Nurse, Student

John A. Moberly, superintendent of Memorial Hospital, presents awards to the outstanding graduate and second-year student in commencement ceremonies last night at Fort Hill High School for the hospital's school of nursing. Miss Lois Holliday, center, won the student award, and Miss Katherine Louise Leer won the two top graduating class awards, for the most outstanding ability in surgical nursing and most progress in medical nursing. Other award winners were Esther Pauline Richardson, best in pediatrics; Dilla Ann Wentz, obstetrics; Betty Lou Preston, medications; and Delores Ann Struckman, best in the out-patient department.

Registration Chairmen Are Announced

Democrat Drive Gains Momentum

As the voter registration campaign sponsored by the Allegany County Democratic State Central Committee got under way, F. Allen Weatherholt, registration chairman, said last night that considerable progress is indicated. In Frostburg, Trial Magistrate Edward P. Flanagan and Miller Bowen, Frostburg and Cumberland attorney, are serving as registration co-chairmen. They are organizing a corps of volunteers to canvass the community and encourage non-registered eligibles to enroll.

Traveling registrars will be at Frostburg City Hall September 22, 23, 24 and 26 from 1 to 5 and 6 to 8 p.m. However, those who wish may register any week day at the Board of Election Supervisors office in the Court House here.

Chairmen in Westernport, Mr. Weatherholt said last night, are Trial Magistrate V. Browne Koonen, who is also a power plant technician at the paper mill, and James E. Kenney, merchant, son of a former member of the party's State Central Committee, and also an active party worker. A canvass is also being conducted in Westernport, where registrars will sit the same hours and dates as Frostburg.

Other Chairmen

In McCoole, the registration chairman is James Fitzpatrick, who operates a motel and restaurant business. Mr. Fitzpatrick is recruiting several volunteers to assist in that area. Traveling registrars will be at the McCoole Fire Hall Tuesday, September 6, from 2 to 5 p.m., and any eligible voters who are missed may register at Cumberland any week day before September 26, or at Westport during the last four days the books are open.

At Luke, George Wolfe, an active Democrat and an electrician at the paper mill, is conducting the drive. Registrars will sit also in Luke on Tuesday from 6 to 9 p.m. with the registration headquarters located in the Library-Devon Club.

Volunteers are working in other parts of the county, urging the registration of at least 3,000 new Democrats.

Mr. Weatherholt said a survey conducted in Maryland as part of a nationwide study indicates that there are 571,696 unregistered persons in the state.

Study Cited

In Allegany County, which has a population of 83,831, there are 35,903 registered to vote. The potential is calculated at 63 percent, or 52,813. Based on this survey, there are 16,910 unregistered eligibles in this county, or 32 percent of the eligible population.

In an effort to further the efforts at registration, a registration booth will be operated during the Labor Day picnic at St. Mary's picnic grounds, Oldtown Road.

Registrars also will visit the Celanese Fibers Company plant and the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company plant on September 12, and Allegany Ballistics Laboratory on September 13, where persons may register without losing time from employment.

Mr. Weatherholt said all volunteers working on the voter canvass are asked to make reports at Democratic headquarters at the Algonquin Hotel not later than September 15.

Goss Offers To Return For Hearing

Prisoner Fled Police Station

A prisoner who escaped early yesterday from police headquarters telephoned a local magistrate last night from nearby West Virginia and promised he would show up for his trial this morning at 9 o'clock.

James H. Goss, arrested at 12:30 a.m. yesterday after a disturbance at 14 West First Street, telephoned Trial Magistrate F. Allen Weatherholt last night to say he had fled to get medical attention for injuries received when police arrested him.

Magistrate Weatherholt told Goss he would try him in Police Court at 9 a.m. today on charges of drunkenness, disturbing the peace and resisting arrest. Goss also faces a trial on a state charge of assault for allegedly punching one of the policemen after he was arrested.

After Goss was arrested early yesterday, Magistrate Weatherholt set bond at $150 on the three city counts and $500 on the state charge.

Notified of the amount he would have to post to gain his release, Goss asked to use a telephone to raise bond. Police brought him to the desk, but he ran from the building and eluded officers who chased him.

Goss has been arrested four times this year, according to the docket at police headquarters. In July he was convicted of violating a parole granted in Circuit Court, but was freed when he told the court he had obtained a job out of town and promised to leave the county within 24 hours.

Meeting Canceled

The meeting of the Cumberland Outdoor Club, 125 Frederick Street, scheduled for Tuesday, September 6, has been canceled. The next meeting will be held on Monday, September 19.

Fred Driscoll Will Participate In Conference

Safety Session Opens Sept. 22

Delegate Fred B. Driscoll, Allegany County Republican, will participate in a press conference as one of the features of Governor J. Millard Tawes' Safety-Health Conference and Exhibit to be held September 22 and 23 at the Hotel Emerson in Baltimore.

This press conference will be held on the afternoon of September 22. Delegate Driscoll and State Senator George B. Rasin Jr., Kent County Democrat, will represent the Legislative Council's traffic safety legislation committee at the conference. Other participants will include Henry A. Barnes, commissioner, Baltimore City Department of Transit and Traffic; John B. Funk, chairman of State Roads Commission; Col. Carey Jarman, State Police superintendent; James M. Hebron, commissioner, Baltimore City Police Department; Henry W. Stichel Jr., magistrate, Baltimore City Traffic Court; and Lt. Newton G. Pavese, Department of Motor Vehicles.

They will be interviewed by representatives of press, radio and television. Included in the two-day safety conference will be sessions on highway traffic safety, occupational health, labor and management partnership, industrial nursing, a preview of safety films, fire prevention and home safety.

Members of the committee of arrangements for the conference include Delegate Driscoll and John J. Long, director of safety and plant protection, Works 7, Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company here.

Public Schools Will Provide Reading Stress

Non-Fiction Books To Be Circulated

Increased emphasis upon contemporary non-fiction reading and stronger stress on science laboratory work are two specific aims for Allegany County public senior high schools in the school year starting next Wednesday, Assistant Superintendent of Schools Richard T. Rizer told high school principals at their pre-school conference yesterday afternoon in the Board of Education office.

To implement this emphasis on non-fiction reading, school officials have purchased two sets of 75 books each, which will be made available to all high schools of the county. These volumes will remain in each school about six weeks of the coming school year.

Categories in which these new books are divided are Europe and Europeans, the Orient and Orientals, Africa and its people, the other Americas, the United States, animal lore, men in battle, biography and autobiography, historical writing, travel, exploration and discovery, psychology, philosophy and religion, personal behavior and family living, and the world of science. There are five or six books in each of these categories, Mr. Rizer pointed out.

For College-Bound

Use of these books will be under the direction of the English department in each school. This program is aimed primarily for the student who is preparing to continue his education in college. Mr. Rizer hopes that each college preparatory student will read at least two of these new books during the coming school year.

A representative of the English department in each school will meet with high school supervisors to make specific plans for the circulation of these non-fiction volumes.

Concerning science laboratory work, the assistant superintendent stresses that the quantitative problem-solving aspect will be emphasized. Nuclear structure and behavior will be given added emphasis in both physics and chemistry classes.

Traditions Stressed

Mr. Rizer also pointed out that special emphasis upon the American traditions will be given to all students. It is planned to give added stress to love and respect of this country and its symbols, with emphasis on music, poetry, the National Anthem and the American flag. This will be encouraged through special assembly programs, and activities of the music and art departments.

The high school principals met with all of the high school supervisors at yesterday's conference. Persons making their first appearance at this conference included Oberlin T. Chaney, 221 Welsh Hill, Frostburg, new principal of Crestapoint School; LaVern Jay Hahn, 834 Gephart Drive, new supervisor of music education, and Glenn U. Hanna, 32 Hill Street, Frostburg, new visiting teacher.

Other principals beside Mr. Chaney at the conference were Dr. W. Ardell Haines, Allegany High School; Dr. Wayne W. Hill, Beall High School, Frostburg; Kenneth E. Sheetz, Bruce High School, Westernport; Mrs. Elsie Hill Roland, Flintstone High School; Victor D. Heisey, Fort Hill High School; J. Hubert Radcliffe, Mt. Savage High School; Joseph H. Peller, Oldtown High School; Miss Lula M. Blonskey, Pennsylvania Avenue School, which has a seventh grade, and Paul D. Beable, Valley High School, Lonaconing.

Earl F. Brain, principal of Beall Elementary School, which also has a seventh grade, was unable to attend because he was a pallbearer at the funeral of O. B. Boughton, retired teacher. Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster also was a pallbearer and he too was absent.

Judge And Mrs. Walsh Are Home After Historic Trip

Former Judge and Mrs. William C. Walsh arrived home here last night.

"Glad to be home" was the message from Judge Walsh at the end of a lengthy trip which included a visit to Red China, where he visited his brother, Bishop James W. Walsh, who is a prisoner of the Chinese Reds in Shanghai.

Judge and Mrs. Walsh arrived home about 9 p.m. on the B&O Ambassador.

They boarded the train for here after a Maryknoll priest drove them from New York to Baltimore as train service from New York is affected by the Pennsylvania Railroad strike.

They arrived in New York Tuesday night after a flight from San Francisco, and were met by his brother, Rev. John F. Walsh, a Maryknoll priest.

On Thursday, Judge and Mrs. Walsh, accompanied by Father Walsh, went to Purchase, N. Y., to visit their daughter, Madame Betsy Walsh, who is a member of the Society of the Sacred Heart and a teacher at Manhattanville College.

During his trip, Judge Walsh was allowed three visits with his brother, who is serving a 20-year term on Communist charges of espionage.

Mexico Farms Watchman Is Demanded

Three parents from the Mexico Farms area appeared at yesterday's meeting of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners and asserted they would not send their children to school when classes start next Wednesday unless a watchman is provided at the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad crossing on the Mexico Farms.

The visitors were Mrs. Ethel Dolly, Mrs. Harry Johnson and Wayne Portness. John J. Rowan, president of the Board of County Commissioners, reminded the residents that bids have been received for construction of an overpass at the crossing and work will start soon. He said that it is not the responsibility of the county commissioners to provide a crossing watchman.

Mr. Rowan suggested that the parents contact Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster and/or R. J. Cannon, division superintendent for the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. Two appointments were made by the county commissioners yesterday. Cletus G. Brailer, Railroad Street, Mt. Savage, was given a probationary appointment as chief real estate transfer clerk, senior grade, in the assessment department. His name was the only one submitted by the County Civil Service Commission from among seven persons who took the examination August 26. The others did not pass the test. Mr. Brailer has been filling the position on a temporary basis for more than a year.

In the other appointment, the county commissioners named Mrs. Virginia Lee Gaffney, 730 Columbia Avenue, a registered nurse for the county institutions. She was second on a list of three who qualified for the position as a result of the Civil Service Commission examination on August 26. Miss Martha Lee Heron, 630 Frederick Street, was first on the list and Mrs. Margaret Ann Dawson, Midland, was third.

The county commissioners also granted a four-week leave of absence to Margaret L. Winters, a practical nurse. The leave will run from September 4 through October 1.

MRS. CLARABELLE KENNEY

Will Direct

Special Class At LaVale

Mrs. Clarabelle Kenney, 96 West Main Street, Frostburg, will teach the special education class at LaVale Elementary School when classes resume next week, according to Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster.

She will succeed Mrs. Margaret Clark Kirby, 142 Maple Street, Frostburg, who is being transferred to a regular classroom teacher at LaVale. Mrs. Kirby has handled the special class for the past several years.

Mrs. Kenney has four years of teaching experience but has not taught since June 1945. She was graduated from Bruce High School, Westernport, in 1936, then received a B.S. degree in elementary education from Frostburg State Teachers College in 1940.

She taught first at University Park and District Heights, both Prince Georges County, and at the former Luke Elementary School in the 1944-45 school year.

Rep. Foley Answers Beall Blast

FREDERICK, Md. (AP)—Rep. John R. Foley said Friday that Sen. J. Glenn Beall ignored his own C & O Canal park bill and allowed it to go without action at the special session of Congress.

Congressman Foley said that Beall was busy in Hagerstown making a political speech at the time the bill could have been acted on Wednesday.

Foley said that he had succeeded in getting the consent of leaders of both parties to release the bill from the House Interior Committee and bring it to the floor for consideration.

The congressman said that he also had the approval of House Democratic majority leader John McCormack.

Republican minority leader Charles Hall, however, refused to go along, Foley said. He reported that Halleck said he would reconsider if and when he was personally contacted by Senator Beall.

Foley said he then started a search for Beall but was unable to find him because he was in Hagerstown.

On another matter, Foley announced the appointment of Frederick County attorney Goodloe E. Byron as director of the Foley for Congress campaign in Frederick County.

Boys Sentenced To Reformatory

Two 16-year-old boys from the Green Ridge Forestry Camp were given sentences not to exceed 18 months in the Maryland Reformatory by Associate Judge Neil C. Fraley after they pleaded guilty in Allegany County Circuit to two charges of statutory house-breaking.

State's Attorney James S. Getty, who handled the prosecution of the cases, said that Magistrate for Juvenile Causes Louis A. Fatkin had waived jurisdiction in the cases because of the boys' previous records. Two other teenagers had been tried by Magistrate Fatkin August 26 and he ordered them back to camp.

David Harold Addison of Silver Spring, Montgomery Blair County, and Leonard O'Donnell Brice Jr., Knoxville, Frederick County, were represented in court yesterday by Hugh A. McMullen, their court-appointed attorney. They pleaded guilty to the first count in each criminal information after having waived their right to indictment by the grand jury.

They were accused of breaking into the cabins of R. C. Fletcher July 24 and Millard Creek, August 8, along Siding Hill Creek, and stealing food, liquor and household utensils. Mr. Getty said they also broke into a third cabin but that was on the opposite side of the creek in Washington County.

Garrett Youth Accidentally Shot In Chest

Eddie R. Stanton, 15, Reported 'Critical'

A 15-year-old Garrett County youth, who police said was accidentally shot in the chest late Thursday night and underwent surgery early yesterday morning, was reported in "very critical" condition last night at Garrett County Memorial Hospital in Oakland.

Eddie Ray Stanton, who lives about three miles east of Accident, was reported to have decided to go raccoon hunting Thursday night with an uncle, Marvin L. Hoover, 24, of Bittinger.

Eddie got his 22 calibre rifle from the Stanton farm house and went out into the yard with his uncle. Mr. Hoover, who was about 10 feet from his nephew, decided to go back into the house. As he turned to go inside he heard Eddie's rifle discharge.

Police said it was not determined what caused the rifle to discharge. The slug apparently ranged upward into the boy's chest.

The uncle ran into the house and notified the boy's father, who was watching television. They took the wounded boy to the home of another uncle, Kirk Patton, who lives about a mile from the Stanton dwelling, and then rushed him to the hospital.

An attending physician at the hospital called state police at LaVale Barracks and asked them to pick up a Cumberland surgeon at his home and rush him to the hospital.

Within minutes after the call had been received a police cruiser was at the surgeon's home and took him to the hospital, where preparations had been made for the emergency operation, which was performed about 2 a.m.

The physician said the slug from the rifle had passed through some of the large arteries in the youth's chest and the torn arteries had to be closed through surgery.

Opl. Sam Conrad investigated for the state police.
